ABOUT IEHC 2015

Theme:

"Threats to Health; Uncovering Latest Issues, Challenges and Prevention"

PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

- 1.To create an awareness and health promoting environments
2. To understand the latest and emerging Environmental Health issues, challenges, prevention, best practices and model
3. To address the societal and environmental factors that increase the likelihood of exposures to the latest issues and emerging diseases and outbreaks
- 4.To address the current health threats issues, challenges and opportunities as a way of moving forward in a challenging and changing world.
5. To find ways to protect our environment and promote good health
- 6.To create alliance for neighboring countries to curb, prevent and manage regional and national environmental health issues.
7. To disseminate evidence and learning to further advance knowledge and skills on environmental health.
8. To realise the goal of Kuching Declaration.

OUTCOMES

We want to make a historic gathering at Kuching, the headquarers for the IEHC 2015 event. Government officials, NGOs, corporations, scientists, philosophers, lawyers, students and environmental activists will reached an agreement on the necessity of the Kuching Declaration, the Guardian for our Future Generation in the Environmental and Health decision-making. The key element of the Kuching Declaration is that it will incites us to take anticipatory and precautionary action in the need to preserve, safeguard and improve our ecosystem and our environmental health uncertainty.

We believe that the existing environmental health regulations and other decisions, particularly those based on risk assessment have failed to protect adequately our environment and human health which is a part of the larger system of which human are a part of it. We also believe that there is compelling evidence that damage the worldwide environment and human health which is of such magnitude and seriousness that the welfare of our planet beings requires new principles for conducting human activities.

We hope the Kuching Declaration which will create common efforts, resources, knowledge and passion of a wide and multisectoral array of supporters' committed to help promote the environment and prevent the unnecessary suffering and well-being of our people.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

We are inviting our international communities, policy and decision-makers to attend and contribute in this very rare and special event and we hope to achieve improved and sustainable environment and health through Kuching Declaration. This event is supported by the World Health Organization, International Federation of Environmental Health, Ministry of Health, State Health Department, higher learning institutions and industry professionals. All allied health groups, doctors, food and agriculturalist, environmental professionals, occupational health, policy and law makers, researchers or students should attend this conference.
