

7th IFEH World Congress on Environmental Health

Ulysses S. Grant Hotel and San Diego Concourse, San Diego, California 20 - 24 May 2002

CALL FOR PAPERS - DEADLINE: 31 JULY 2001

The 2002 World Congress Organizing Committee invites environmental health professionals from around the world to submit papers for possible presentation at the 7th World Congress on Environmental Health.

Papers should focus on the following subject areas:

- Air pollution
- Animal facilities
- Disaster preparedness
- Disease vectors, vector control
- Drinking water
- Education and training
- Emerging environmental health issues
- Emerging pathogens
- Empowerment strategies
- Environment and health audits
- Environmental health legislation
- Environmental health management
- Environmental monitoring
- Epidemiological surveillance
- Erosion, sedimentation control
- Food and consumer protection
- Globalization
- Hazardous materials / wastes
- Health impact assessment
- Housing and institutions
- Indoor air quality
- Injuries, prevention of accidents
- Land development
- Liquid waste
- Local mobilization and involvement
- Noise
- Occupational health and safety
- Plan check
- Public information and communication
- Recreational health
- Risk management
- Sanitation
- Solid and infectious waste
- Swimming pools
- Underground tanks
- Urbanization
- Waste management, recycling
- Water pollution
- Other topics of importance to environmental health

The Congress Organizing Committee will carefully review all papers for applicability to the field of environmental health, originality, current significance of topic, scope of interest and appeal to the profession, and balance of theory and practical application.

Papers should include the following: abstract of 50 words or less, introduction, purpose, method, results, conclusions, and a brief speaker biography. In addition, author's mailing address must be provided, along with fax number and e-mail address if available. Abstract and speaker biography of selected papers will be included in the Congress registration materials on our web site, as well as printed in the final program distributed at the event in San Diego.

All papers must be written in English. The following layout requirements are highly recommended:

- ✓ text should be typed with single spacing in 12 points Times Roman in an area 6 1/2 inches wide by 9 inches high
- ✓ title in 14 point with bold, capital letters
- ✓ author name underlined
- ✓ Microsoft Word or WordPerfect computer format preferred
- ✓ papers may be submitted on-line via the Congress web site at www.IFEH2002.org or as an e-mail attachment to papers@IFEH2002.com
- ✓ if papers are not submitted electronically, send an unfolded copy and a copy on computer disk to:

2002 World Congress Organizing Committee
California Environmental Health Association
980 Ninth Street, Suite 1600
Sacramento, CA 95814
USA

Phone 00 1 707 552 2189

Fax 00 1 707 552 2592

Visit our web site at www.IFEH2002.org for the most recent Congress information or write to the address above and ask to be placed on our mailing list.